3 'A cultivated eye for the antique': Charles Winn and the enrichment of Nostell Priory in the nineteenth century
Sophie Ralik

9 European porcelain figures at Fenton House
Anton Gabrowicz

15 'Like a Roman sepulchre': John Soane’s design for a Castello d’acqua at Wimpole, Cambridgeshire, and its Italian origins
David Adshead

22 A Minton floor rediscovered at Cliveden
Hugo Brown

24 Wembury House, Devon: 'A house of legendary grandeur'
Hugh Meller

29 A George III silver service at Waddesdon Manor
Philippa Glanville

30 Thomas Bewick and Cherryburn
Mark Purcell

32 The Vyne Ramesess: 'Egyptian Monstrosities' in British Country House Collections
Tim Knox

39 'Reigning Toasts': Portraits of Beauties by Van Dyck and Dahl at Petworth
Christopher Rowell

48 National Trust Projects and Acquisitions 2002-2003
Christopher Rowell

EXHIBITION REVIEWS

56 Art in exile: Flanders, Wales and the First World War
David Fraser-Jenkins

57 José Clemente Orozco in the United States, 1927-34
Anthony W. Lee

BOOK REVIEWS

59 Menzel's realism: Art and embodiment in nineteenth-century Berlin
Daniel Johnson

61 DIARY

The May issue of APOLLO will be devoted to the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and will include a number of specialist articles on the collections, as well as an interview between the Director, Malcolm Rogers, and Norman Foster, the architect of the MFA's new extension.